

All community members please note:

OUR ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA HAS CHANGED

Due to increasing demand for Waminda health and wellbeing services and programs, our eligibility criteria has been reviewed to ensure access by our Aboriginal community members is prioritised.

Please review your eligibility

Aboriginal female staff and community can access all services and programs as per specific program / service eligibility criteria

Aboriginal male staff and community can access all services and programs according to the below:

- Clinical services: less than (<) 18 yrs can access through Minga, Yila, Cullinghutti, and Wreck Bay, 18 years or older can only access through Cullinghutti or Wreck Bay clinics.
- Other Waminda services and program: as per specific program / service eligibility criteria

Non-Aboriginal females can only access:

- Clinical services: if they are pregnant with, parent of, or kinship carer of an Aboriginal child/ren, AND the Aboriginal child/ren in their care is/are under 18yrs of age[#] and an active client^{##}.
- Nabu program: if eligibility criteria are met
- SHLV/ UDVIS: if eligibility criteria are met

Non-Aboriginal males can only access the Nabu program (if that program eligibility criteria is met).

If the above does not apply to you please see our reception staff

[#] Once the child turns 18 years of age the parent/ carer will no longer be eligible

^{##} An active client attends Waminda clinic at least 3 times over a two year period.

V1 23/01/2023

Waminda

strong women. strong community. strong culture.

